INTRODUCTION

The Laudato Si' Centre at Wardley Hall is the Diocese of Salford's ambitious response to the call by Pope Francis to every living person on this planet in his letter 'Laudato Si' – Care for Our Common Home'.

Our vision was to create a place of education and outreach mission that generates environmental hope in those that visit or access our resources.

The Laudato Si' Centre engages with people of all faiths and none. Since our inception in 2019 we have welcomed over 3,000 visitors including school groups, parishes, community groups and individuals wanting to learn and change for the benefit of our common home.

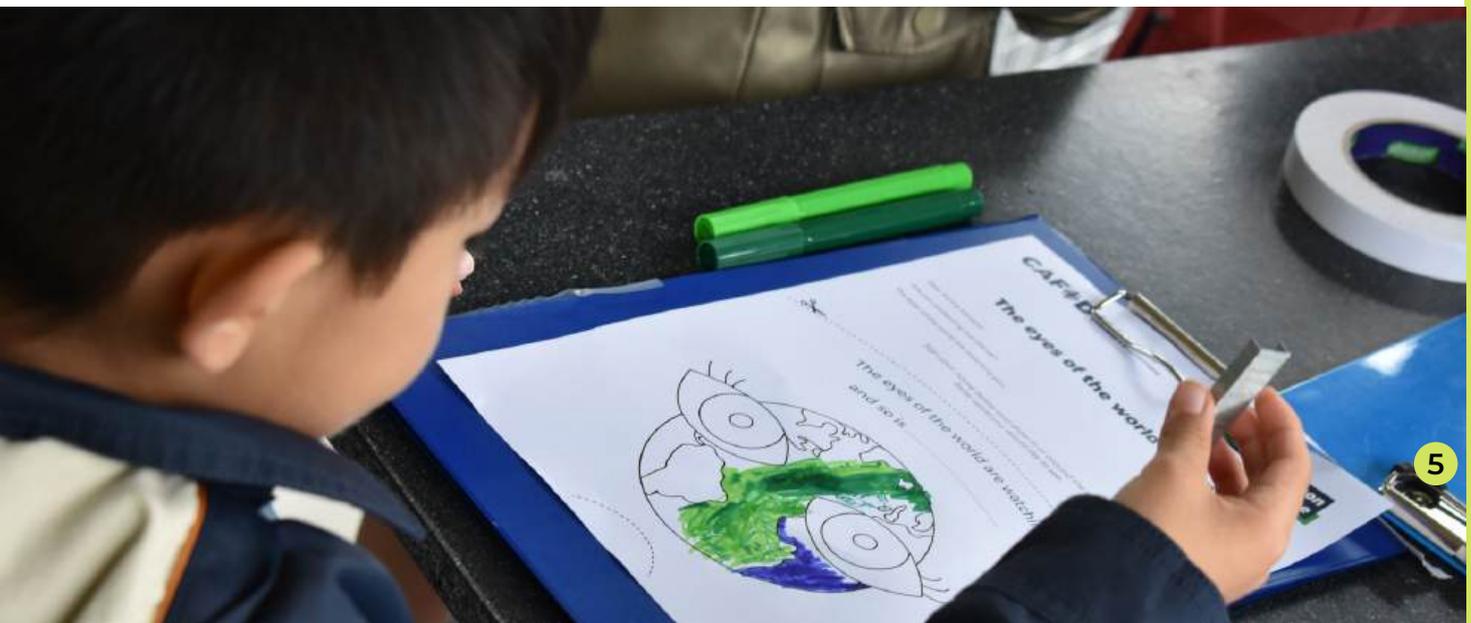

We are currently using the land and woodland on the estate of Wardley Hall, giving us an opportunity to repurpose redundant space to help people to learn how they can take practical action to address the ecological crisis and work towards a sustainable world.

OUR MISSION

- To provide the tools and learning needed to enable all to hear and respond to the cry of the earth and cry of the people, provoking an ecological conversion.
- To provide the tools and learning needed to enable all to hear and respond in hope to the cry of the earth and cry of the people.

OUR AIMS AND VALUES

- We will demonstrate ways of living that better care for our common home and all creation that are practical and can be replicated across parishes, homes, schools, and communities.
- We will educate through a variety of experiences, including immersive experiences in the outdoors for school pupils and adults, seminars, and events for parishes, schools and communities; and activities relating to a variety of technologies and behaviours.
- We will provide a space to heal and flourish to support human and spiritual renewal.

Through offering a wide range of engaging activities for people of all ages, we strive to make our Centre a thriving place of learning, spirituality, and wellbeing.

Our rich and varied education programme provides memorable outdoor learning for primary and secondary education - as well as for colleges and SEND schools.

We are also delighted to regularly welcome a number community groups and parishes who come to our Centre to learn more about practical ways to care for our common home and to discover more about Pope Francis' document Laudato Si'.

Rooted in our Catholic faith, the Centre aims to educate, inspire, and empower people to be good stewards of creation. Furthermore, we are proud to share this mission with people of all faiths and none as we work together for the good of our common home.

As Pope Francis teaches in Laudato Si', we must hear and respond to both the cry of the earth and the cry of the people, so our Centre also offers a diverse range of programmes to support mental health and wellbeing, in addition to providing opportunities for people to develop new skills and gain vital experience to help future employment opportunities.

PARISH GROUPS

Caring for Creation and the environment is an integral part of our Christian faith. Our Laudato Si' Centre, run by the Diocese of Salford, is a direct response to Pope Francis' teachings - as well as Bishop John Arnold, who has challenged each and every parish in our diocese to take practical action to care for our common home. Here at the centre, we're delighted to host a wide range of activities to help parish groups learn more about this inherently Christian call and provide the teaching and inspiration to help you take that next step.

Tours of the Laudato Si' Centre:

Take in the inspiring surroundings of our Walled Garden and Woodland area whilst finding out a little more about the day-to-day steps we take to support nature and encourage ecological flourishing. Explore these in further detail with our skilled staff members, who can advise on the simple activities and actions you can do at your own parish to take up the call to action for caring for our common home.

Parish Action Planning Support

Beginning a project is often the most difficult stage of any journey and it can be hard to know how best to start. If you are not sure how best to begin your parish group project, we can help you create an action plan, give practical ideas to explore, and then upskill you with hands-on sessions to help support your knowledge. For parishes already on the journey to care for creation, we can support your next plans.

Retreats:

Our retreats largely take place in our woodland area, where we can feel inspired by God's gift of creation. We have retreats to fit in with the liturgical calendar, feast days, sacramental programmes, as well as environmental saint retreats. Meditating on scripture and using nature to help us to pray, our Laudato Si' Centre is an excellent place for an away day. You can also celebrate Mass in our woodland area.

Liturgical Sessions:

Feel inspired by Pope Francis' words of the Laudato Si' encyclical and the Laudate Deum exhortation, linked to our liturgical sessions. At certain times of the year we offer Stations of the Cross and Rosary sessions always with an ecological focus. Take time to reflect and pray whilst embracing all that God's creation has to offer.

Interfaith Gatherings:

In our woodland, we have a special tree planted by an inter-faith group who travelled to Rome to meet with Pope Francis. To honour this trip, we host interfaith sessions during the year where we get together and share our knowledge and expertise and how our faith inspires us to care for our common home.

Bespoke sessions:

We can also plan bespoke days to meet the needs of your parish or faith group. If you have something specific in mind, please get in touch and we will be happy to plan a session unique to your group.

WELLBEING AND COMMUNITY GROUPS

We have a wide variety of activities and sessions available for all ages looking for wellbeing and connecting with nature. We work with community and corporate groups and can tailor sessions to fit your needs.

Tailored sessions for community and work-based groups:

We work with a range of groups from charities and organisations across the area, including The Prince's Trust, Salford City Council, and Greater Manchester Fire and Rescue Service. Together, we have undertaken some fantastic projects at the Centre, such as creating a woodland music space with instruments made out of repurposed materials, planting hedgerows, building up woodchip pathways, creating hugel mounds, and more.

If you are interested in getting involved in a similar project, or would like to rent the space, or enquire about activities tailored to your group, please email laudatosi@dioceseofsalford.org.uk

Woodland Sessions:

Immerse yourself in the sound of birdsong and explore the beautiful native trees of our woodland in one of these back-to-basics sessions. Stripping away all the distractions of the modern world, our woodland sessions are designed to renew our relationship with nature by going back to our roots with a wide range of activities, from cooking around a campfire, woodland tool and craft making, bushcraft skills, foraging, and more.

Wellbeing Sessions:

Research from leading mental health and wellbeing organisations reveals that being near and in the presence of plants and nature can be mentally restorative and reduce stress. The act of gardening is also well-known to have many physical health benefits. And so, we're delighted to be able to provide a range of sessions that engage us in nature and encourage us to get active whilst helping to improve confidence, self-esteem, resilience, and overall wellbeing.

As part of a group, you will be invited to step away from the stresses and strains of daily life through a range of activities. From breathwork and meditation sessions, to learning about the proven health benefits of a range of herbs and vegetation, and participating in seasonal wellbeing sessions to support the mind, body, and spirit.

Sessions can be tailored to the needs and interests of a particular group, so please do get in touch to discuss all the different options for your community group.

Horticultural Sessions:

Reconnect with nature whilst upskilling your horticultural knowledge by working across all the different areas of our walled garden. Take a walk around our edible forest garden and learn how to create a richly biodiverse area in your own space, whether that's in containers, yards, gardens, or playing fields. Our horticultural sessions will leave you feeling confident, upskilled, and enabled to regenerate outside spaces using sustainable methods. Activities can include gardening for wildlife, propagation techniques, seed saving, tree pruning, and horticultural therapy.
